A friend in need

Once Jim had a chemistry lesson. But it was so unusual. The students had to do a chemical experiment. Jim had no idea what to do and had never seen such experiments before. So Jim decided to ask his friend Sally to help. She was said to be good at chemistry. But the problem was that nobody wanted to help him. They said that he had big had. And it was true. He thought that he was the best of the best. So he got on badly everyone. Jim even fell out with his best friend John.

Jim was upset. He was in the park. Lonely. Suddenly he saw John! He came to help and said that he would never let Jim down. Jim was so happy!

In the end, Jim was the top of the class and was convinced that a friend in need is a friend indeed.
