Last month I visited Kazan - a picturesque city in Tatarstan that has various picture-perfect places to visit, including grand monuments, quaint historic buildings, and, of course, lovely parks. I went to Kazan Park of Culture and Leisure, and it was an unforgettable experience.

The park is situated in the city centre and is always filled with ^{curious} ~~various~~ tourists who try their best to blend in with the locals. They are very noisy, that is why I associate the sounds of their laughter and chatting with this park. ~~However, this~~ park is a truly beautiful place because there are many verdurous trees of all shades of green and emerald, and ~~also~~ colourful flowers that give the park a fantastic summer-like smell.

It is worth ^{mentioning} ~~saying~~ that Kazan Park is not like any other park ~~it is~~ way bigger and has more historic value to it. Its alleys are lined with ancient monuments and statues. ~~For~~ Besides, ~~there are~~ special ~~guides~~ guides work there, they can tell you all about the history of the park, its most spectacular attractions, famous people who visited it, and so on.

However, there are a few unpleasant aspects of the park, such as the absence of public bathrooms and cafés. I also think that more guides should be hired, so that every visitor can learn more about Kazan park.

All in all, Kazan Park is a wonderful ~~and accessible~~ ~~place~~ and accessible historic place that will leave ~~anyone~~ anyone speechless.

Keep Calm and Look Around

I had a dream of visiting the Bounty Park. Now that I have been there at least twice, I may present a detailed description of its wonders. I have been there three years ago when we wanted to escape from the hustle and bustle of the California state.

No sooner had I stepped into the park itself than I felt odours and smells of vanilla ice cream blend in my nostrils and heard tweets of birds. Then I utterly indulged in strolling along the quaint statues, glimmering in nearly forty shades of bright colours.

The main decisive feature of this park is a combination of gardens, collection of figures and a ~~the~~ grand palace of an exuberant architecture. Among all other parks it is the only one that may bring you to the state of euphoria with its unique scenes of both nature and architecture.

By far, this park has a place for improvement. I would totally recommend to reduce admission fees, but to keep the budget on balance introduce payments for snacks and beverages. A new collection of sculptures would be of a paramount importance too.

As for me, I ^{have} put my heart on "the Golden State" and clearly long for a forthcoming visit. I can undoubtedly peg the Bounty Park as an experience of my life.

Writing.

I have had a lot of impressions from visiting London. But the greatest of them is walking in Hyde Park. One cannot be impressed by the huge size and natural beauty of this place. You forget about hustle and bustle of megapolis there.

When I visited the park at first time, I was immediately ~~stuck~~ struck by the smell around me. It was so clear and also tasty, because there was a variety of cafes with ~~lex~~ diverse dishes. Now it reminds me the smell of grass or even the smell of tasty food. There were lots of different noises such as music, quaint sounds of animals, people laugh.

In my opinion this park cannot be compared with others except for Central Park in New York, of course. Hyde park has a big lake, where animals such as gorgeous swans live. Also there are lots of trees where parrots who perfectly blend in with trees because the same colour are hidden in shades of leaves. I would like to say that this park is a home for many animals and because of this reason Hyde Park can be called unique.

I think, there is no reason to change something in this park except for cleaning system. There are lots of leaves on the ground.

In conclusion, I should say, that I recommend this park for visiting. If you want to feel London's atmosphere you would go there.

gr. I have visited The White Charleston park a year ago. Some people are delighted by it while sp. others believe this park is the same as any other.

ex. In my opinion, The White Charleston park is unusual because of how many different associative memories I have about it. First of all, whenever I think 'peace' gr. now, I think gr. the White Charleston park. There are never a lot of people in it and all you can hear is wind and whispering. Second of all, trees in the park do not come in different shades and sizes, they look almost identical. Everything is green and the air smells like grass. I have never been to a park that has such a relaxing effect on people.

Although The White Charleston park is the best one of all I have ever visited, there is always something to be improved. This park does have very few places where you can sit and rest after a walk and this fact can be frustrating.

All in all, as far as I am concerned, The White Charleston park is a great place for one to blend in with the Nature and to be alone with your thoughts, and this is due to simplicity of the park structure and his unpopularity.

My favourite park. (231)

The park that I love visiting is the Vnitsky park. There are a lot of different activities for the people of all ages - and all of them are free.

But the main aspect of the park is the nature surrounding it. Every single time you walk through the park you smell the aroma of the giant pine trees scattered around the place, the sweet smells of blooming flowers especially in the spring. The park also has a lot of sounds - the water flowing, the ducks quacking, the leaves shimmering in the blowing wind... It's the atmosphere, the blending colors, the incredible shades of leaves mixed in with tree branches on the grassy grounds that makes this park unique. There is a big activity centre in the park - and it blends in nicely with the quiet nature. You can spend your evening watching the sunset from the nearby cafe while drinking a cup of hot coffee, feed ducks and chill out at the nearby lake, rent bikes and small electrical scooters, play various games with your friends - the possibilities are endless!

However, there are also downsides to this park - there are a lot of people drinking alcohol or smoking; there is not enough lighting in the dark even near the main alley and there is a lot of advertising. But despite all of that the Vnitsky park is still my favourite.

Part 3. Writing.

It's commonly known that people spend most of their free time outside, or, to be exact, at parks. There is a big variety of parks, for example amusement parks or botanic parks, but today I'm going to talk about a park I personally enjoy visiting in my free time.

First of all, this park is located near the centre of my city and it's called 'Gorky park'. There are some restaurants and ice cream trucks so there is a small food everywhere. Also, there are slides and basketball court so the park is filled with people's laughter and roars of excitement which all blend in together. Secondly, like any other park, 'Gorky park' is surrounded by trees, which leaves are different shades of green, but only in this park you can actually see wild animals like squirrels and rabbits. However, that park has its disadvantage too. For example, there is a lack of attractions for adults. This problem can be fixed by adding some kinds of rollercoasters or horror houses.

In conclusion, despite the disadvantage, 'Gorky Park' is still the best park to visit with your family or to spend free time there with your friends.

Writing.

An essay.

The park I have visited recently is called Warner Brothers theme park and is located in United Arab Emirates. Honestly, it's not a usual park because there aren't only trees and benches, but also various cafes, decorations and rollercoasters! The actual thing is that you can both have some fun and ride any thing you want or just have a walk enjoy the atmosphere. Speaking of decorations, the park looks exactly like a town from Warner Brothers cartoons. This makes it a unique one.

The park is divided ~~to~~ into different zones, where you can meet, for example, Tom and Jerry and visit their houses. Everything is decorated really beautifully, especially the roof of the building where this park is set. It looks like the sky, demonstrating a palette of shades of blue, purple and even pink.

Also, I was absolutely in love with the smell there because the food in those cafes was delicious and smelled amazing. Even some noises like kids' wheezing didn't bother me.

However, there was one thing, also related to children, which drove me mad. It was the problem with kids' height. My brother couldn't ride any slide because he was too short! But what's the point to make a park for children and don't allow them to play? I think this should be improved.

Part 3.

Hello, I'd like to tell you about one of the most wonderful places I've ever been to.

It's a park in London. Honestly, I don't know its name and all I can say is that it's a really small park in the south of the city. My friend Julia and I discovered it ¹⁰ during our trip to England. I've only visited this park a few times but I could never get enough of its ambience.

I wouldn't say that it was an unusual ~~park~~ place - it looked just like any other park. You could hear children playing baseball, dogs barking and people jogging and chatting around. We spent a lot of time there eating our lunch or late supper so the only smell I can recall is the quaint smell of bread and sandwiches mixed with fresh grass.

What I found different about this park is that everything ~~seem~~ seemed harmonized. Children's pure joy, dogs' excitement, calmness of old ladies walking by, ^{10x} flowers of different forms and shades - all of ~~this~~ it blending in together.

As for me, there was only one thing that could have been changed - the lack of space. The enlargement of the territory was all that was needed to be done there.

To finish, I'd like to say that this park may seem ^{10x} ~~just~~ just normal to you, but once we start enjoying small things in life everything becomes magical.

Everyone has his favorite place in town. For me it is Gorkov Park. I have so many things associated with this park. I'd like to describe this unforgettable place.

To start with, this park is not in the center of the city. That's why the air there is fantastic. There are a lot of cafes. Throughout your walk you can smell freshly baked pretzels. Nature here is exotic so the way that colours blend in is undescrivable! As for the animals, you can't find a place without them. Rabbits are running past you. Quaint! That's amazed me! In the spring, you can't even hear your thoughts because of the birds singing. The one thing that makes this park unique is its own library. A lot of thrilling books can be found there. This library is newly decorated, so ^{that} besides reading, you can take amazing pictures with the neon sign "library". Even though this park has a lot of good sides, there are things that can be improved. Firstly, it is hard to get there by public transport. Secondly, there are a lot of shadows. Park managers should think of some solution!

In conclusion, despite the bad sides, I like this park. I hope that in ^{or} near future it will only become better and more popular.

Part 3

I live in Almedyevsk, a city famous for an enormous amount of oil found there. Other than that, it is not really different from other Russian cities, and unfortunately, we used to have almost no places to hang out at. However, this situation started to change a couple of years ago, when several parks were built.

One of them is a park situated next to the hospital, so calling it "The Health" was a nice decision. The park includes a huge amount of facilities created for children and teenagers, a place you can work out at and an interesting-shaped fountain right in the middle. I absolutely love hanging out there with my friends or just walking alone while listening to music. The smell of fresh grass, popcorn and food coming from the restaurants nearby as well as the noise of water from the fountain make the park super cozy to be at. I would be lying if I said that this park is extra-ordinary but it looks modern and reminds me of European parks. To be honest, I am disappointed by the fact that there are not many trees around, so it would be a brilliant idea to plant some more of them.

In conclusion I would like to say that this park is one of my favourite parts of the town for sure and I highly recommend visiting it

WONDERSQUIRREL PARK

9. The world is full of wonderful parks that can stun us by their beauty. One is a Wondersquirrel Park in Krimea, Ru. I was lucky to visit it last year. 30 8

The territory of the park occupies more than 200 hectares of plains and mountains. Hundreds of narrow roads run across the valleys, surrounded by lavender fields. Quiet atmosphere is interrupted only by the sound of squeaking mice. The mountains are covered with dense forest where you can feel the fragrance of pine. The giant trees leave huge SHADES in which dozens of squirrels hide and play. The noisy clunching of squirrels, the endless hissing sound of wind, penetrating the ~~branches~~ space between the branches, the soft sound of steps - everything BLENDS IN a unique and unforgettable magical feeling of freedom, that cannot be experienced anywhere else. The Wondersquirrel Park is considered to be the single Eurasian park, covering more than 20 hectares of land but not considered a national reserve.

Though the park is close to perfect, some improvements could be done. It would be great to organise a little local railway, as some sites are too far away. The railway system would make them easily accessible.

sp. Finally, I would advise everyone to visit this park and it would be great if I would be able to see it once again in a year. 27

Essay.

Every person has his own place where he prefers to spend time. It is known that many people usually visit parks as these are places where you can relax, walk, ride a bike and so on.

As for me, I also visit parks in my town. But my favourite one is the park "Sun". I really like this park, especially, for its smell because there are a lot of trees there and everything is clean and green. As the cars are not allowed to be used in the park so there are not any noises which I appreciate and I smell only fresh air. In addition to it, shades can change amazingly, for instance, in winter everything is white and in summer is green and bright. Besides, there can not be any situations when somebody tries to blend in your thoughts or disturb your relaxing time. (+)

However, in my opinion, the park can be improved by planting more trees and colourful flowers. Due to my quaint imagination it will be better to put a small lake with some ducks in the park.

All in all, I would like to state again that I really like this park as it has more advantages than other parks.

(+) [To my mind, this park is different from others because it is not full of different attractions.
