Writing

It goes without saying that everyone in the world go through exciting, hilarious and sometimes even life-changing experiences during their lives. These stories make us stronger and my story is not an exception.

A while back, the school where I study was hosting a basketball tournament and I had decided to take part in since my skills were quite impressive. The best friend of mine, whose dad is a professional NBA player, organised and registered our team with other 8 people by the name of „Superior Dogs“. After that, we started training a lot in order to show other people a mind-blowing gameplay from us.

Then, in 3 or 6 days the tournament had started. Our first game was really nerve-racking, especially for me because I had been playing basketball only with my friends but, anyway, we managed to make our way straight to the finals. Eventually, we had to play against high-privileged team „Wise Dragons“. ~~Before the game, a TV journalist had taken an interview from all of us and then the match started.~~ ^{Finally} The first half of the game was really awful and we were losing by 20 points. Our team members had not any hope in winning but after some time my best friend said everyone one little phrase: „Never give up“ and it changed everything in our minds. We started communicating better and our score was getting closer and closer and we had actual won!

Finally, we all paid respects to our captain because ~~that~~ ^{that} little phrase was eye-opening. That phrase is probably the most useful thing I have ever learned. If there is no any hope, if no one believes in you—just don't stop and you'll achieve everything you want in your life.

The most useful things I have ever learned
Hello everyone. My name is Bulat and today I'm going to tell you about the most useful thing I've ever learned. It's studying languages. & To be honest, learning languages is my hobby. Today I study 3 languages. There are Tatar, English and German. If I wouldn't have been so lazy I could have known them better. I wish I knew more than 10 languages and was a polyglot.

I'm learning German by myself. I've got a special notebook, vocabulary and I'll new words there everyday. By the way, I'm studying German because I want to live in Dusseldorf, Germany. I read lots of articles and reviews about living in Germany and compared life in Dusseldorf and other cities.

I've been learning English since I was 8. My favourite teacher Maisara Gumerova is teaching me it for 7 years. I also watch 1 gr films and cartoons in English in order to improve my knowledge. Besides, I'm learning Tatar for 8 years in the school. Other students 8 don't learn this language, because they think it's useless. I consider that all people have to know whole culture of country, republ or city where they live including language. gr

Firstly, I was learning English and Tatar languages before I started to learn German, because my parents and teachers wanted me to do it. But suddenly I found that I liked it so much.

Thanks for the attention everyone, I'm ready to answer your questions in commentaries below! Learn languages good luck!

Writing.

Who is the most important person in your life? As for me, it is my mother, because she is very wise and she always helps me when I get in trouble. My mother supports me as soon as nobody (does) else does and gives me thousand advice... And the most useful thing I have ever learned by thanks to her was... Never letting people get you down. Do you want me to explain you why?

In the first place, some people can be toxic. Unfortunately, I have already met people like these. They want to break you down like you're a building or a wall. But NEVER let them do it with you. Just "Kill'em with Kindness" - so says my sister. At second, you can have problems with your health if you listen to people's opinion. Well, do you want to deal with medicine for the rest of your life just because you let somebody get you down? I suppose, the answer is clear. In the third place, you have to realize that there always will be the ones who hate you. Said, but it's true. And people like these do not deserve you or your attention. Don't get me wrong, I do not make you to love yourself only, I just want you to take care of yourself and know, what you deserve.

Well, I hope that you agree with me and now you know how wise my mother is. Just don't let people get you down and know that you are rare. Thank you so much for your attention.

Part 4. Writing

The most useful thing I have ever learned.

There are so many different things we learn during the lifetime. Many of them we understand only after making mistakes. What about me, I think I am experienced enough to say that I have learned many useful things so far. But one of the most important, appreciable of them is patience.

I can not say that I have learned to be patient after making mistakes. I think this quality started growing in me while the first music lessons when I decided to learn how to play piano. For the first time I was finding music lessons very boring. I was really excited for the lesson to end. But after some months of practising I have changed my thoughts about music. After the school I had been going home thinking about what music I had been going to play that day. Some time later, I even became excited for my lessons because they became interesting to me. When I noticed this, I understood that after some time of work you become passionate in something you do. I started progressing only after learning this.

I think that patience is not something we learn from our parents or teachers. It is not even the type of person's character. Patience is not about waiting for something to happen, it is about being strong for enough time.

Task 4.

The most useful thing I have ever learned.

Jane Mayers; the student the 3rd of February; 2020

In our fast moving world, with every year raised amount of information, It is hard to organise yourself and consume only useful knowledge. But there are some general life skills, those one should learn to do. By my personal experiance, patience plays a very important role in one's communication with the society and help to achieve goals.

In childhood people can't be focused on something particular, but while life time passes by some of them learn to concentrate on one thing & a long time. Such people can spend more time and forces to overcome their life obstacles and become successful. Others can lose their attention and interest after the first fail. While patient person believes that "better later than never". He learns and works harder; try to do his best to make fruitful results: as adult patient person can have a high quality of profec skills and have no problem with unemployem. Moreover, it develops way of communication with other people. Any relationship will be strong and will bring only positive emotions to the both sides, if there is no place to harry. Every one dreams about fairytale story of love, but in reality it is not so easy to find an appropriate person. It needs a lot of time to be sure that in your partner; so sometimes impatiant people can become view of heart breaking.

Patience open lots of doors and broaden the horizon, if you open your heart and mind to try it your own.

Writing

Dear sir or madam,

I am writing you to answer for announcement. I have already written an article for competition and this theme is absolutely interesting for me. So, let me share my opinion. From my point of view, everyone has his own opinion about the most useful thing he's ever learned. If you ask anyone, opinions and points of view will be different. Somebody thinks that it's reading, another will answer that's cooking. As for me, it is learning English. And you'll ask me "why". First of all, English crashes walls between continents, countries and people. You'll definitely find friends in any part of the world, because English is wide-used and wide-spoken language. It's the language that everyone knows and uses. For example, English helps tourists in the trips (of course if they ~~know~~ speak it), and they'll never get lost or even eaten. Secondly, learning English gives you great chances to have such a good education in an international university ~~or college~~. In my opinion studying is very important because ~~it~~ it develops our mental abilities and obtains our outlooks, we are studying for all our life, so make your learning process amazingly great. Thirdly, English helps you to find work in any part of the world. You could find interesting, well-paid and lovely job if you have a good knowledge of English and a very good education. I'm ~~surprised~~ ¹²³ surprisingly happy to learn English and it has changed my life. And what do you think about it?

Your majesty,
Leonor Phillips

The most useful thing I have ever learned.

The most useful thing I have ever learned is playing the guitar. Playing the guitar is very important skill for pers of future. I am going to tell you many stories, when the skill was useful, here they are:

Some times in the ⁵⁰evening I take my guitar and play on it for my soul. I play some popular or under ground songs and it seems to help me. I feel nothing bad inside. After this therapy, psychologists are use less.

At my school we have a band. We play different songs and we ⁵⁰have so many materials to show on the stage.

On some events, celebrations we can play for public.

One month ago I was in a camp. My guitar was at home and one good guy took his guitar there I was glad to see it and started playing. Many camp mates went on the instruments sound and wanted to sing sign me ⁵⁰up. With such kind of friendly company we were keeping a fire camp atmosphere.

These stories show me and you the one of the most important thing we can learn in this age, age of teenagers. You can be a soul of a company, or you can make this hobby ⁵⁰a part of your life and make money on it.

Everything is in our hands!
