the Internet

4. Nowadays has a great influence on our society, especially for young people and teenagers. When it's used to be a simple source of information our generation finds social media no less important. We can't imagine our day without scrolling through friends' feed or celebrities' photos, and even if these activities may seem to be worthless, social media still has a lot of pages not only to entertain but to raise awareness and make people society think on their previous and future decisions, beliefs.

I want to review one of those useful pages. Alexandra Mitroshina's blog is quite popular, but her 1 million followers on Instagram is what she deserves after all hard work. Alexandra's profile is not just visually pleasant (as she successfully passed photography courses in New York), but is spoken a lot of valid topics in.

Alexandra just used to talk about making money on the Instagram, but now she's considered to be one of the biggest inventors on women rights in Russia. She's not afraid to speak about domestic violence, sexism, homophobia and other types of discrimination for such big auditory. Intellectually pleasing, replying to haters' commentaries, with a good sense of humour, kind, philanthropic and always fit, she and her activities deserve the attention of men, women, government and just worthlessly scrolling Internet users.

Alexandra Mitroshina's worth being featured in our magazine as her blog is considered to be one of the best and could positively affect on students' personalities development.

Part 4: Writing. Helping website.

gr. The Net is large surface to share ideas, discuss global issues and unite for greater aims. However, there are also lots of trash, users can find some really interesting pages.

One of them is a website called "Night out". It started, when people noticed that the number of homeless ⁵⁰ ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~increasing~~ ^{increasing} day by day. Activists decided to make government pay attention to the problem. Every year, hundreds of people in USA and Europe sleep one night out of home in rough condition.

They say: "Homeless are also people as you are, as we are. So why we enjoy our ¹⁰⁰ ~~lives~~ ^{lives} and they have to survive in danger, hunger and cold?", "We must talk about it. While The Government is turning a blind eye, they are dying."

lex. The greatest thing is that website is becoming more and more popular. People like the idea and join the moving. What is more, they ¹⁵⁰ ~~help~~ ^{help} people by themselves, because they understand that their cause is just a bad fortune. Unfortunately, others disagree with them and think that homeless people are lazy.

lex. I cannot make your mind, but if you want to solve global issue, you are able to do it. Anyway, it is better way to spend your time in the Net, rather than waste it reading gossips.

New Prometheus

Nowadays stacks of people are into series watching. They find serieses, cartoon ^{gr} breathtaking, interesting, full of fun. Moreover, people always talk about them, discuss new ones. The problem is that there aren't many worthy websites to watch all that stuff.

As the old saying goes, a long ago ⁽⁵⁰⁾ Prometheus helped us so ^{gr} we could be alive, nowadays TVPrometheus.com helps us to forget about tedious days, our problems, it ^p offers whales of different serieses and cartoons.

As a matter of course, ⁽³⁰⁾ ^{lex} you would ask "What's so special about it that we should choose it?" And the answer easily comes into my mind. I've found ^p out that there subtitles translated ^g on 10 different languages, including the most popular ones, wherever, all the available serieses ^{lex} and cartoons are available with FullHD quality. ⁽⁵⁰⁾

Not the last thing to be mentioned is the fact that I myself know the creators of that site and they're working extremely hard to keep us satisfied. ^{gr}

Besides, every week ⁽³⁰⁾ it makes the rating of the most watched serieses and cartoon ^g. The last week, so you can easily find and watch the most popular ones.

If you don't ⁽³⁰⁾ want your evening being wasted and yourself being bored to tears, I advise ^{gr} to pay attention to that site - TVPrometheus.com - I promise, you'll thank me for that review. ^{lex}

gr. I would like to review one blog called "Divine Nurses".
 voc. It's a blog about nurses who help ill and sick people.
 They take care of patients and help them. Nurses are also friendly and help out each other. They donate to Charity to

But there are some cons in such blogs. I didn't really like how they show people being ill or sick. And I wonder if they have a permission to have a blog like that.

I had an interview with one of the nurses though. Her name was Kelly Hearts. I asked her questions like "Why did you decide to become a nurse?" or "Why did you start a blog like that?" She told me that when she was younger, Kelly got very sick and got sent to hospital. She was very lonely there, and only one kind nurse kept her company. Kelly never forgot the nurse and decided to become one and keep company to pati-As she started working, she found more nurses like her and therefore blog "Divine Nurses" was born.

Overall, that blog is really nice and supportive. If you ever need a hospital with caring people, then I advise you you to visit Begini Hospital, that's where the "Divine Nurses" blog was born and still lives on.

Resently I have read a popular blog that is called Pinterest. Now I like to express my own opinion about it. Pinterest is a very popular website with many pictures, photographes and lists. I personally really like it and advise you ^{sp} to visit it.

^{sp} First of all, this website is widespread all over the world. All people who have exess to the Internet can go through its pages to find something they look for. This benefit leads to another. You can easily find this blog in the v

^{gr} Moreover, Pinterest is easy to use. I'm sure everyone can go on this vo website, type short information into the special line and quickly get the result. If you have struggles, manager can help you online. ^{gr gr}

Next benefit is brightness and lot's of colourful pictures and lines. It grab your attention in a second. But it also has white colour, so your eyes won't be tired.

But it has one minus, though. You can use it only if you have an account.

In conclusion, Pinterest is one of the greatest blogs in the world. Millions of people use it every day. If you're creative and looking for some inspiration, this is the place that can't be missed.

The Lia's Diaries

The blog under review is "The Lia's Diaries", which is concerned on ecological and environmental problems. Lia is a teenager from the South Korea, Seoul. At the age of 7 she was inspired by her parents with saving the our planet and now she travels around the world, participate in volunteering events and writes her own blog. Her blog is full of interesting stories which inspire to protect animals and environment. What's more, there are a lot of articles which were written by scientists and people specially for her blog, so it can bring you new knowledge and interesting facts.

~~Every two weeks she writes new posts~~
 Every two weeks, except the trip days, she writes new post or article. It is very amazing, because when popular person helps to solve the ecological problems, his fans start doing the same thing.

I love this blog so much and I recommend you to read it, because we must know what is happening with our planet, ecosystem and how to make world around us only better and better, but not worse.

gr The Book of Life.

Recently I was mindlessly browsing the Internet and came ^{sp}across one amazing blog called "The book of life". For almost an hour I ^{gr}was ^{lex}absorbing educational articles on my favourite topics and getting new information every time.

The blog's ^{gr}design is quite pleasant to the eye. Its pastel aesthetic does not distract ^{pre}reader from the educational ^{sp}process and only helps with concentration. Every article or note has an image pinned to it or even a video, so learning ^{gr}would be more interesting.

The articles are written with ^{gr}beautiful ^{lex}yet lively language. The text is not ^{to}complicated, and non-native can read it without getting perplexed. There is a big variety of topics for every ^{sp}body. If you are interested in History, here is a great amount of article about famous people and events from the past. If you happen to be keen in fashion, feel free to read about this season's trends and celebrities. See? The blog is suitable for everyone.

The owner of the site, a young ^{lex}lady from Canada, is devoted to her job and tries her best to post new content once a few days for her curious readers.

"The "Book of Life" is a totally different world filled with useful information, where you can relax and learn about what you love. I, certainly, ^precommend you this blog. I promise it's worth your time!

Review

I'd like to write about a popular art website called Pinterest. This website is really popular among artists and designers. It contains a lot of cool things about art. From simple sketches, to concepts and from concepts to gorgeous paintings.

I found out about this website not so long ago and I already really like it. There's so many fascinating and inspiring ideas. It feels like all the art that exists is being published there with all the credits.

Basically, all you have to do is type down what form and theme of art you're into and suddenly, there's a whole world of possibilities. There're tons of suggestions and stuff that might interest you as well. They always give credit to artists and thus way more people know about them. You can "pin" whatever you liked and later on come back to it. The system of this website is very easy and comfortable. The website's design is appealing as well.

Personally, I would recommend this to everyone, even if they're not so passionate about art. I, myself, post art online and thanks to Pinterest I gained quite an audience. I really like that sites like this exist. It inspires you on your own ideas and develops your imagination.

Task 4.

I'm going to talk about the blog that I have read recently. Also, I would like to add that it is my favourite blog.

To begin with, you should know that I am a One Direction stan. That means I'm a true fan of One Direction band. So, I check their profiles every day. But if you open my phone you probably will see my favourite blog. That's "freddyismyqueen" YouTube channel. The girl that owns this channel is wonderful. She makes videos about One Direction boys. Her channel is just my piece of cake. I enjoy her videos so much!

If you are new to One Direction fandom you probably will have some ~~questions~~ about the band and etc. I recommend you to check out "freddyismyqueen" channel in order to find answers to all of your questions. You can find lots of categories on her channel. My favourite one is "Larry Stylinson crack", I suppose. This category is about two band mates that ended up with having the most cute and powerful bromance I have ever seen in my entire life.

In conclusion, I would like to emphasize the fact that this blog inspires me. I am even thinking about starting up my own channel or Instagram page. I think that it is extremely beautiful that people are strongly connected with each other through the Internet and social-networking websites. Such as YouTube, Instagram or Twitter.

In the end of my review I'd like to say that I wish there were more followers on "freddyismyqueen" channel because her videos are real masterpieces.

Hello, my readers

Today I want to introduce my review about blog I have read recently. The blog is about coronavirus. Coronavirus is a bad thing to talk about at the moment, so this blog immediately went viral, but in my opinion this blog lacks criticism. At first it is impossible to trace sources, because they are not mentioned and we can not trust this blog for sure. Also author makes a mountain out of a molehill saying that there will be a lot of human deaths, and it is important to men because it provokes panic. Then I want to add that author didn't show the number of people who was infected and he didn't write about what can we do in order to protect ourselves from being infected. So as we see that blog lacks information, but despite this fact I think we need such blogs to give people some recent news, and I feel okas that this blog became popular because now a lot of people are interested in coronavirus. To conclude I want to give an advice to author to give more facts and details in his blog, to leave some sources to trace and tell the truth. I can rate this blog as quite good. Next time I will make a review about global warming blog.

your faithful, ~~Mike~~

Mikhail

Part 4.

Recently I've read a famous blog called "Easy English". This blog's aim is to show the easiest ways of learning the language.

John Harrison, a teacher of English, explains to his blog's readers how to improve their language skills (such as vocabulary, grammar and speaking) without any difficulties. Instead of using old, not effective variants of learning, he offers some new methods of getting knowledge of the tongue. These methods were invented by American professors, and, according to their study, students who used their methods were dealing with studying much faster than students who were just learning texts by heart. The main idea of their experiment is that the students who have a high-level of the language teach students with a low-level. In fact, it is effective due to the fact that teenagers understand each other easily. This is a literature also a list of literature is given by J. Harrison. This is a literature of Oxford University Press.

From my point of view, there are both advantages and disadvantages of this blog. The pros are that the blog has many facts about the language structure and really helps its readers improve their abilities. But the cons is that you need to pay for the literature.

I recommend everybody who wants to know English to use this blog.
