Part IV. WRITING

3.1. Dear Jelly! Your performance was so touching it made me tear up. I've never heard anyone sing jazz with such passion before. I liked the way you started quietly, sitting on the chair in the center and then slowly increased volume, standing up and ~~twirling~~ in your shiny dress radiating energy and jumping as you reached the climax. ~~What impressed me the most was~~ I was really impressed by how well you control your voice at such a young age and you could hit the <sup>right</sup> spot with your emotions. Plus, I've never heard this song live before and you made my first experience wonderful. Though, I'd recommend to focus more on your facial expressions and try to put on more noticeable makeup, since ~~the lighting~~ lights on stage tend to make it <sup>look</sup> less vibrant than it actually is. I hope in couple of years I'll be standing near the stage of a huge stadium, where you will be performing, I'm sure you'd ~~personal~~ solo concert! 108.

3.2. A DIAMOND IN THE RUST. p.
 It happened so long ago, that only the oldest of the ones may remember it. During a blizzard, in a small cave a boy was born. He didn't cry, he watched with serenely thoughtful gaze, before giggling, like a little bell in the howling wind. 49
 Years passed and the boy - named Gusto - grew into a young man. ~~In his~~ In the house he was a slave in? he was known as "The boy with magic hands". Though they weren't magic, they just belonged to a smart man. He quickly reached as ~~the~~ <sup>how</sup> healer mended the wounds <sup>of the rich</sup> and healed. He was a ~~blank~~ blank page, quickly <sup>so</sup> stained with words and ink. 49
 He ran ~~from~~ <sup>from</sup> his home at 17, hoping to become ~~something~~ more than just a boy who ~~the town~~ sneaked books as the lealeps, He went to the royal palace and there they took him - he thanked all the Gods - to look after those with plague,

He wasn't <sup>50</sup> afraid. During lonely nights in the infirmary, he explored their disease trying to understand the exact way they were being pulled ~~into~~ the kingdom of Hades. ~~This was~~ more and more people fell victims to this horrifying disease. No one understood why - the palace was already locked, no one could enter on <sup>100</sup> leave. ~~No one~~ <sup>200</sup> but rats. The ~~the~~ ~~real~~ realization dawned upon him ~~when~~ when he watched ~~the~~ <sup>a</sup> rat die the <sup>or</sup> <sup>or</sup> same way an old servant did couple of days ago. Everyone were being bitten by the rats and that is why this plague was so contagious! He rushed to the royal healer, but <sup>50</sup> he didn't listen - who would listen to the rat like him? But the boy's resolve didn't waver, it <sup>had</sup> only sharpened.
He told all servants about what he had found and those who believed him, <sup>280</sup> were alive a full moon later. ~~As~~ the little prince got ill, the king found Gusto, begging for help - for what sins they were being punished for? Even his personal doctor couldn't help.

After the boy's explanation, ~~the~~ cases became permanent fixtures in the kingdom, while Gusto was made ~~the~~ <sup>the</sup> new royal healer and cured the plague, his advice ~~was~~ rats being the disease carriers ~~with~~ working even in our modern times.

Good evening, dear ladies and ~~gentlemen~~ gentlemen! Today we are here to the most talented people and their attractive performances. First of all, I'd like to express my ~~is~~ profound gratitude to you! Your performances ~~were~~ <sup>was</sup> brilliant. I'd say, a silent poetry. I <sup>really</sup> want to say that I haven't seen any shadow theatre performances since my childhood. You made me feel like a child from the first flicker of light, you created a whole world with just your hands, a screen and a lamp. One of my favourite moment was the transformation of your fingers from a bird ~~to~~ <sup>into</sup> a running deer, and then seamlessly into a growing tree. It was pure magic!

I was really impressed by your technical skill & dexterity. You created such clean, recognizable and expressive forms! You also managed to convey a complex narrative, it seemed to be a story of life.

So, I'd strongly recommend you to experiment more with different colours of light to make your tales more precise. Thank you so much again!

Since Arley's early childhood, his parents have ~~is~~ told him: "Arley, the real magic is science. Please, don't believe in all these stupid fairy tales. Study, study & again study!" But Arley ignored them, ~~and~~ ~~and~~ ~~and~~ and continued to believe in magic.

~~His~~ He had 2 dreams: to become an Oxford student & to understand if the magic is real. He worked really hard & in the age of 20, became an Oxford student. His family & he were on cloud nine!

When Arley was 23, a ~~strange~~ curious situation happened with him. On his summer holidays, Arley was enjoying bright sun, laying on the beach. That day the beach wasn't full of people: just Arley & 3 young boys, playing with a ball in the ocean. Suddenly, the loud scream made Arley open his eyes. He saw that ~~the~~ one of these boys were sinking. Arley rushed into the water, trying to help the boy. ~~But~~ Unexpectedly Arley felt that he ~~made~~ somehow managed to ~~be~~ take the boy out of the water, just with the use of strange mind-power. It was like being a superhero! ~~making your mind~~

After being saved, the boy asked Arley: "How did you ~~helped~~ help me being so far from me?" ~~Then~~ Then Arley responded: "I really don't know how, but suddenly I felt that I could help you. Some strange power awoke in me and with the use of my sight I helped you."

After this situation, Arley told the world how to control your superabilities with the help of doctors.

Thus, the world understood, that ~~with~~ with a strong desire to make sth ~~so~~ fruitful, a kind person become a superhero. 1gr

Dear contestant,

I was truly captivated by your performance tonight. Your modern dance interpretation of myth of Icarus was breathtaking and exiting. I really like it. The moment you transitioned from controlled movements into those reckless, soaring leaps perfectly captured the character's tragic ambition. The way you used the single piece of red silk to represent both the sun and the melting wax was a stroke of genius. I was so impressed by your exceptional physical control which allowed you to convey such a powerful narrative without words. Your emotional delivery was raw and compelling. We could feel Icarus yearning and his invariable fall. We can't wait to see what you do next. Thank you for this greatest experience. It was amazing.

Part IV. WRITING

4.1. Alex, thank you for that absolutely captivating performance. You didn't just perform a card trick; you took us on a short, emotional journey. From the moment you asked us to think of a memory, you had the entire audience in the palm of your hand.

Your act was a brilliant fusion of technical skill and theatrical artistry. The way you made cards seemingly appear from thin air ~~was~~ <sup>was</sup> flawless, but what truly impressed me was the story you built around it. The moment you "found" the spectator's chosen card inside the sealed envelope was magical - it wasn't just a reveal; it was a narrative payoff. Your stage presence was calm, confident, and completely engaging.

What struck me most was your originality. You moved beyond standard magic tricks and created a unique, personal experience. Your skills are clearly advanced, but you used them to serve emotion, not just to shock. That's the mark of a true artist.

To develop further, I have two suggestions. First, consider playing with the pacing. ~~The middle section~~ ~~could build a little more suspense~~. Second, think about expanding your storytelling. ~~Could this character you created return in a longer routine?~~ ~~You have the charisma to~~ ~~carry it.~~

Keep honing that unique voice!

The Song of Aella the River-Weaver

The future is born in the hands that dare to dream

In the ancient, rain-lashed city of Carragh, nestled between two vengeful rivers, life was a cycle of blood and famine. The people lived in the mud-scarred hills, looking down with dread upon the fertile plains that drowned each spring. This was the world Aella was born. But girl was not a scholar of scrolls but a student of the rivers own whispering grammar. While others saw only a destructive force, Aella saw a restless, powerful heart.

Her great work was the Lattice-Loom, a vast, проговорила на обороте ↵

flexible weave of timber and vine built not to block the river, but to dance with it. It was a gentle hand upon the river's wild wrist, slowing the current to spread fertile silt across the plains. Aella's dream to be friends with nature started to come <sup>so</sup> true.

Where the Lattice stood, floods became irrigation. Famine turned to bounty. But Aella's true gift was the unity it demanded, forcing the city's factions to maintain it together. She left them a guiding verse:

"The single reed is swift to break,
The braided cord will hold and bind.
For <sup>100</sup> common ground we all must make,
And leave our lonely fears behind."

Aella then departed, her legacy not in stone, but in thriving fields and a united people. She proved that the finest invention is a community learning to build its own future.

Dear contestant, thank you for your outstanding performance! It was lovely to see you at our talent show. I had never met such an extraordinary person <sup>sp.</sup> like you, who succeeded in learning the whole Shakespeare's novel by heart! Besides, I can consider you a real genius, because you read it <sup>50</sup> without any mistake!

To tell the truth, I was greatly impressed by your skills and there were some reasons for that. First of all, I noticed you didn't use any additional materials to remind yourself the text. Secondly, it should be mentioned that your emotional delivery was just unbelievable <sup>sp.</sup> as <sup>100</sup> you tried to express all of the feelings ~~with~~ with the whole body, so you acted like a natural character of the novel, what excited not only me, but also all of the members of the jury.

To sum up, I have only one recommendation for your future development. Next time <sup>150</sup> ~~you'll~~ you'll come here, try to add more suitable video or music in your performance. It will allow you make your acting even <sup>gr.</sup> more real for the audience. And remember, doing what you truly enjoy makes you a star, so let <sup>190</sup> yourself shine bright. <sup>134</sup> Conf-5 DT-1 Lex.-2 Th.-2011-1 ~~to~~

Once upon a time there lived a young man in a small village. When he was a child, he was always a shining star, who brought happiness into people's lives.

But the truth was, he was the only person, who <sup>Plex</sup> saw positive moments among the members of the countryside. By the way, the name of ~~the~~ that man was Conan.

During his growth Conan started noticing that there <sup>was</sup> ~~were~~ nothing on people's faces: no emotions, no smiles, only sadness. He knew something was wrong with all of them, even with his relatives. So, when he was 21 years <sup>gr.</sup> old, he decided to go to a trip to try to find the key answer to his question.

Conan's first stop was the huge ~~city~~ city far away <sup>gr.</sup> from his birth place. In that town all people were different from the Conan's family. They all were pleased <sup>P.</sup> with <sup>the</sup> life. He started asking them, why ~~were~~ they were so satisfied. The response was simple: "because we live on."

P: "this Earth." Conan was ~~not~~ surprised a lot by that answer. He understood that there weren't any special reason for people's happiness, they were just enjoying the life in general.

After that, Conan returned back home, to ~~the~~ tell the inhabitants of his village, what he found out during his travelling. He emotionally told how other people live and how they reach happiness without even trying. In the end of Conan's speech everybody was so inspired, that they forgot about all the sadness, and started smiling. That was the new positive begining in the mind's of the villagers, who started ~~with watching~~ to watch the world from a different side.

Finally, it is worth to say that the future is born in the hands that dare to dream and not afraid to do that.

Part IV. WRITING

4.1 Good evening, contestant! I would like to share my emotions about one of <sup>the</sup> contestant's performances.

Mary's performance was astounding. She was playing guitar and singing at the same time! Personally, I was shocked when she took the highest note I've ever heard. I didn't even know that human can do that! She was really skilled and her performance made me cry. The lyrics of her song were really tragic for me. Also, the song was <sup>not</sup> really ~~the~~ popular. It was very extraordinary to choose it.

However, there is always some ~~place~~ place for growing. I has several recommendations for her further development. I suggest practising ~~low notes~~ singing low notes. Mary, your "low notes" sounded like some people's high notes. Also I think that you should improve your communication with the audience.

Finally, I think that you will be a very successful and talented vocalist in the near future. Good luck!

4.2 A happy camper

Not everyone is a hero,
Your fear can make you a zero.

But if you have no fear,

You can seal any deal.

Sir Nicolas was just a simple knight in his ~~town~~ town. But the ~~town~~ town wasn't simple. All of the citizens were <sup>town</sup> couldn't people, who can't read. They were afraid of books and education. Nicolas had moved to ~~the~~ the town long before this story started. He had no friends. It all was because of an old man, who gave him a book. Nicolas was the same as his neighbours. He was scared and amazed at first. But then everything ~~it~~ has changed. He was fortunate enough to learn the literacy with that old man he saw. He became the one and only man in their town who could read.

This skill helped him in one big deal. Nicolas found out that their town was deceived all the time by their neighbouring town. They always told them wrong news and disinformation, kept them as some silly town ~~where~~ and took their money and resources. The heroic Nicolas decided to fight ~~it~~ with enemies. But instead of weapons he chose education. ~~with a purpose~~ He opened several schools and ~~we~~ <sup>taught</sup> ~~learned~~ taught people. His burning heart <sup>gr.</sup> helped them. They defeated the ~~strong~~ <sup>200 words</sup> opponents with sharp mind. ~~And~~ And the dream of little Nicolas has come <sup>gr.</sup> true. The future is born in the hands ~~of~~ that dare to dream. (because a new way is over)

THE POWER OF THE DREAMS

The future is born in hands that dare to dream. Once upon a time in a god forgotten village miles away from the nearest kingdom ~~lived~~ lived a boy Aidan. However, this story is not about an ordinary person, because he could fly. Whenever he needed to go to the place that was too far away from home Aidan could just spread his wings and reach the spot in a couple of minutes.

~~But~~ The boy was a <sup>truly</sup> ~~real~~ dreamer and his biggest wish was making everyone's life easier and happier. When Aidan was a child he asked his grandfather, who's life was a real rollercoaster, why other people could not fly like him. His grandfather, a ~~wis~~ wise <sup>old</sup> man, answered with those four lines Aidan remembered so well.

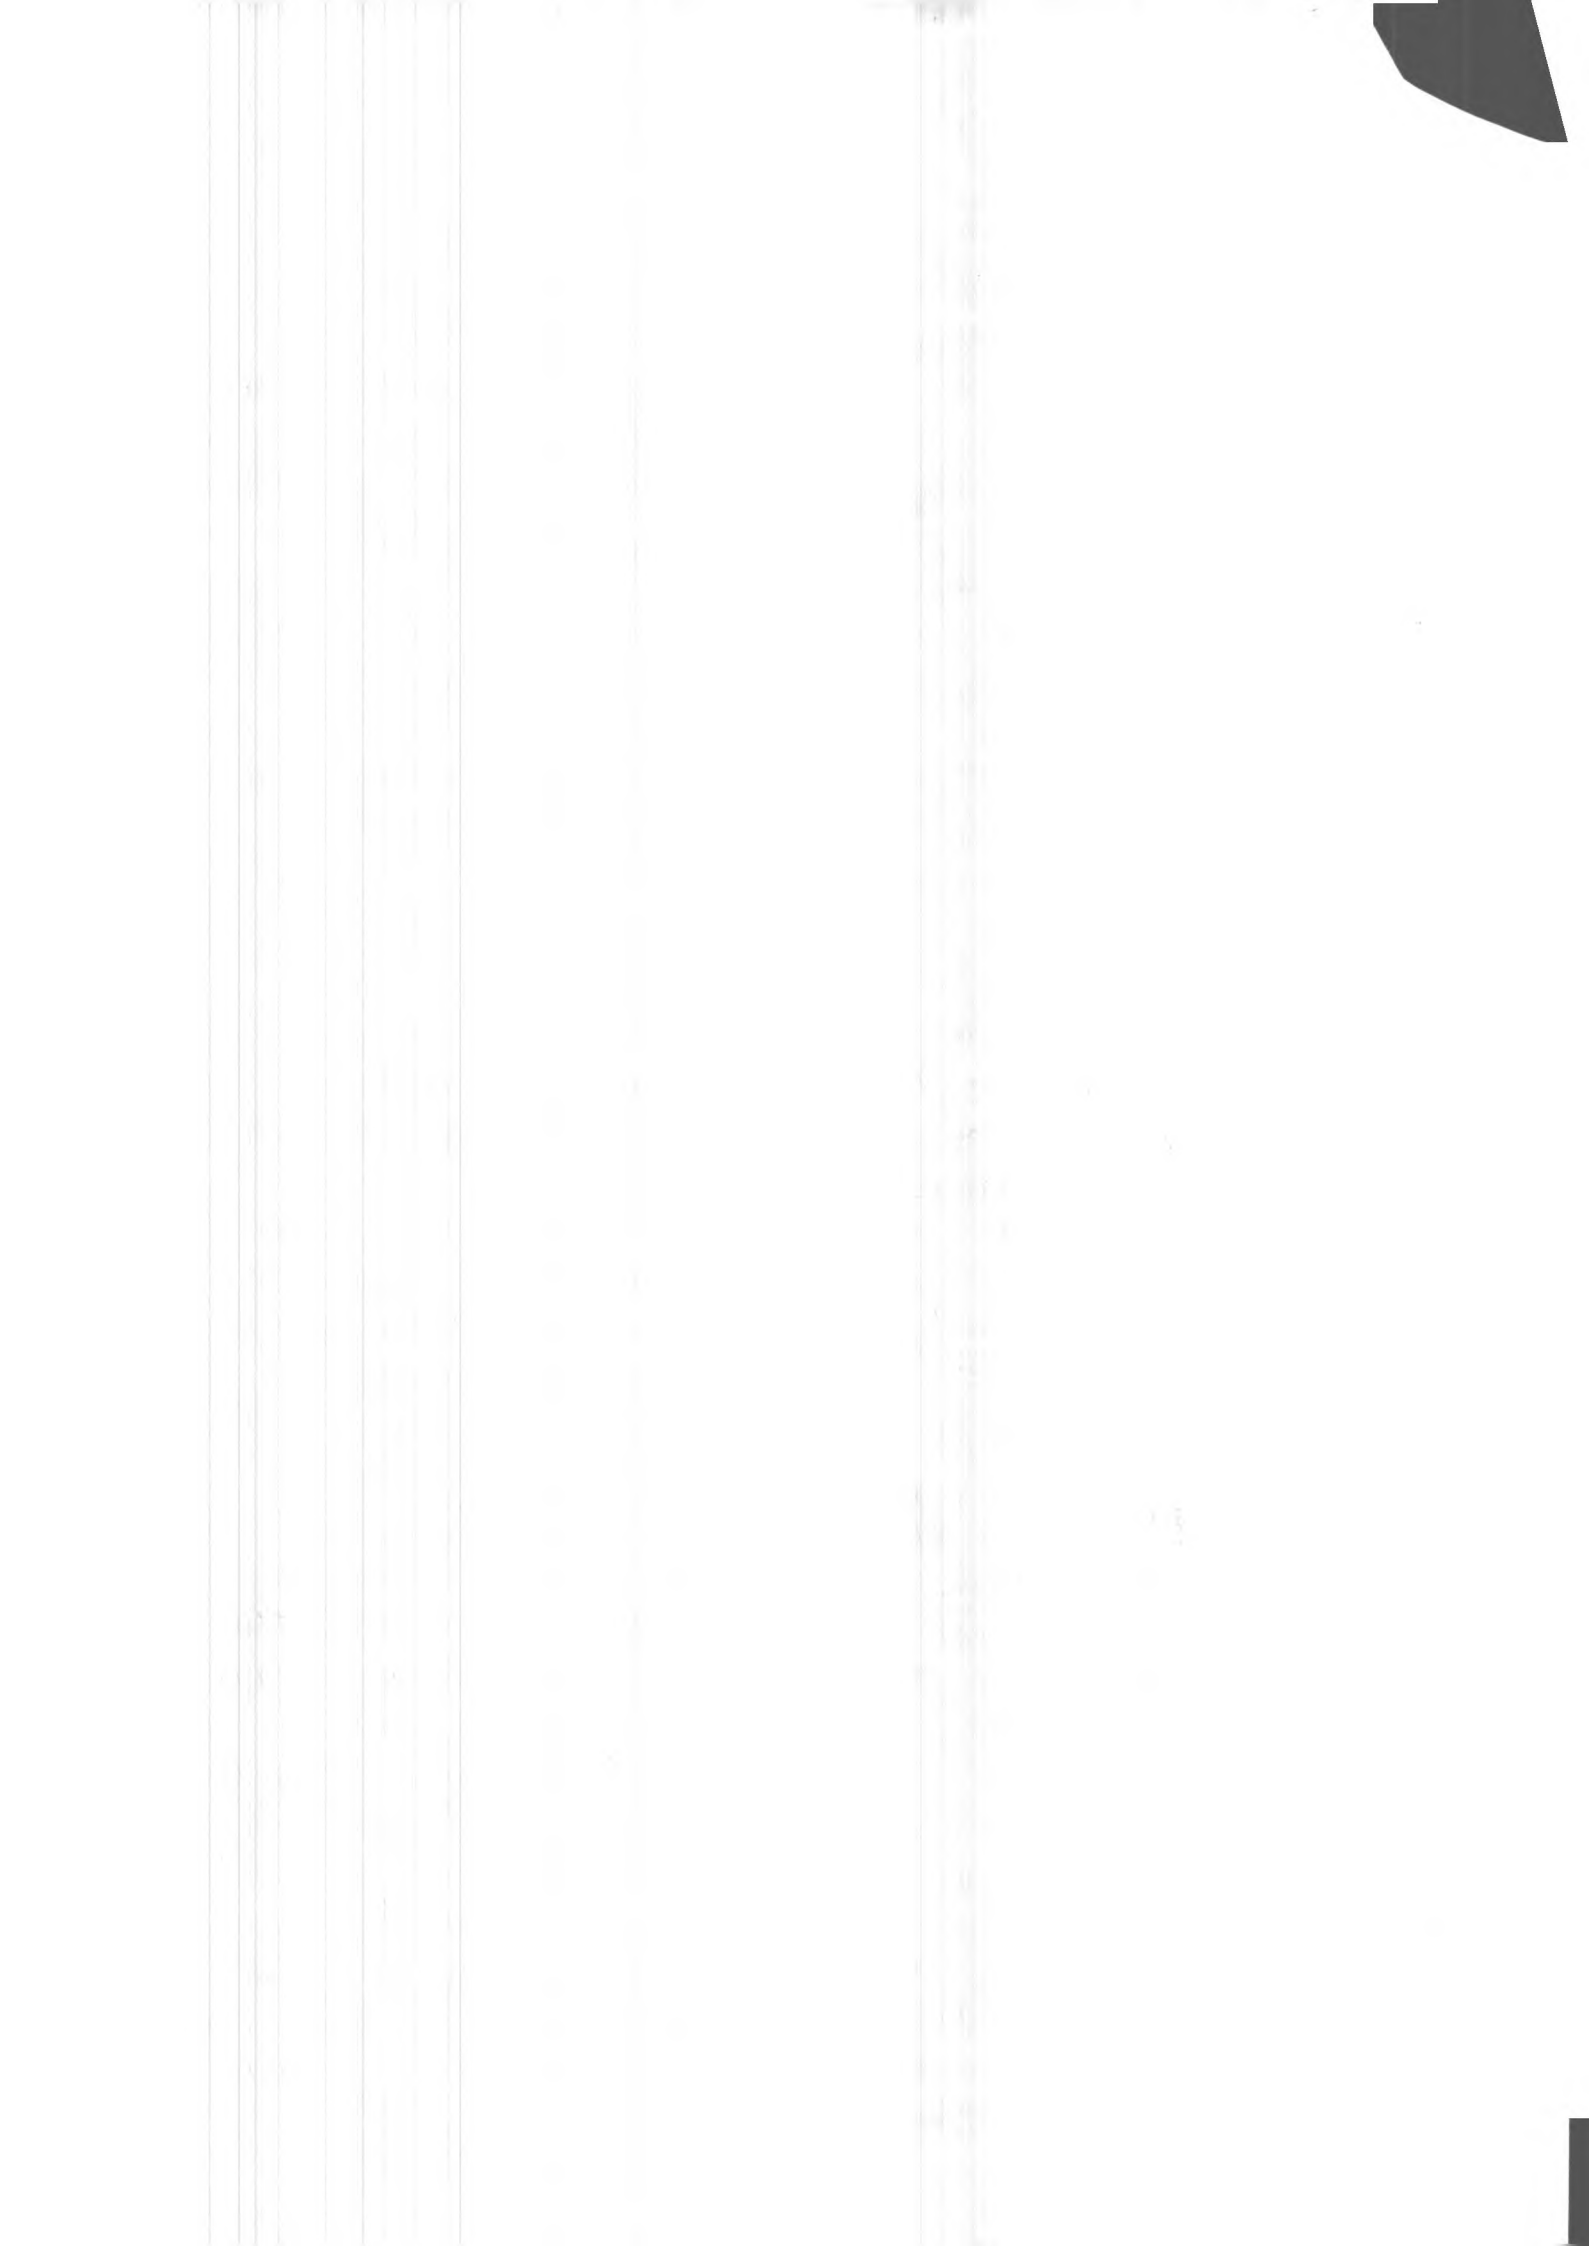

"Dream as much as you can,
And then you will be alive again,
But don't forget that time is a thief
Before you lose your own myth."

Little Aidan always wondered what did it mean. However, he managed not only to get <sup>what it means</sup> ~~his words~~ but also prove the world the truthness of his grandfather's words.

When Aidan grew up, basing on the structure of his wings he constructed first flying machine. Years later people ~~called~~ will call it a plane and use everyday. Thanks to his invention people could travel all around the world, meet new people and start their love stories apart from their hometowns.

4.1. Oh my god! My jaw almost dropped at the floor when Yuna started performing. At first, she walked on the stage with undeniable grace and confidence ~~with~~ holding a long ribbon in her hand. ~~Then~~ When the music started playing the stage was filled with magnificent movements of her dance. The ribbon was flying all over the stage making rings and flips in the air. ~~One of~~ Another noticeable part of her performance was her suit decorated with different colorful little stars ~~and~~ taking my breath away every time I looked at Yuna. About my recommendations I could say that it would be better to <sup>choose</sup> ~~use~~ <sup>less</sup> ~~more~~ bright colours in her of the ribbon and add emotions to her performance. In general, her skills were incredible and she showed incredible talent the god gave her. Hope she'll do even better in the future.

4.1 Bravo! That was one of the most impressive performances I've seen today. Needless to say, you've done a tremendous job at teaching your dog these tricks and learning how to speak the same language with it. But what I found the most remarkable is the way you interacted with the audience and kept everyone engaged in your show. Your first trick, which was showing your dog solving Maths problems, was greatly enhanced by the way you kept everyone thrilled. You drummed up our anticipation with the help of the music and the tone of your voice. The next trick, when you showed your dog pretending to be a customer at the supermarket, was extremely hilarious. Moreover, the way you controlled your dog's behaviour was perfect. You two are real friends. To my mind you have nailed this performance and my only recommendation is to get fancier props and costumes. You are brilliant actors but you lack style! 159

4.2. A Challenge

'The future is born in the hands that dare to dream'

Leo was a simple university student who came to study from a poor village. But he was exceptional; <sup>sp</sup> he had a dream. Since the very childhood, his only ~~was~~ <sup>desire</sup> was to conquer the stars. He would look at them with his handmade telescope and gasp in amazement. Who cared about Earth when stars were there, flickering like diamonds?

Days passed and he was finally accepted to the university. He was walking on air when he ~~was~~ could <sup>gr</sup> start studying real space-related science. But one day his professor decided to challenge him and ordered to solve the problem on the board. When Leo admitted he couldn't the Professor trembled with anger like an animal and shouted that he wasn't allowed to study there anymore. Leo's heart sank. He quickly copied the problem and <sup>le</sup> rushed home.

There he analyzed the problem carefully although it felt irrational. He didn't give up, <sup>but</sup> he had a dream to follow and studied around the clock until he was able to present the professor and answer with a 96 pages of explanation. The professor exclaimed with ~~great~~<sup>pure</sup> excitement: "Leo! You are a genius!" It turned out that Leo accidentally <sup>gr</sup> copied the wrong problem and solved the most challenging space ~~dilemma~~ dilemma in the world.

When the NASA received Leo's work they were ~~shocked~~ shocked, Leo's solution opened a possibility for ~~an~~ faster space travel. 4.1. Hello, Julia! Thank you for your great ~~performance~~ performance. Your rendition of the song "Who Wants to Live Forever" by Queen, in five languages, really impressed me. <sup>pun</sup> The way you ~~me~~ switched between ~~them~~ <sup>languages</sup> was simply ~~extraordinary~~ so quickly was simply extraordinary. 4.2. Mighty Max

However, he was the only person with dreams in the City of Misery. This place was imbued with despondency and ~~made~~ its inhabitants extremely unhappy. Max May ~~was~~ ~~surprised~~ always wondered why everyone was so miserable except him. It turned out that he was impervious to ~~these~~ bad feelings. That's why <sup>or</sup> he decided to try to help those who were suffering every single day.

Part IV. WRITING

3.1 Good evening dear guests, members of the jury and contestants. Today we are all ~~met~~ here to ~~watch our annual talent show~~. I'm glad to say that our annual talent show came to an ~~end~~.

Today my colleagues and I saw a great amount of ~~talent~~ talented, extraordinary, ~~unbelievable~~ and brave people. ~~Everyone~~ ~~was~~ Every performance was unbelievable to us. But I'd like to outline one girl that touched us deep inside and let me ~~speechless~~ <sup>speechless</sup>. It was Mary Lisbon who did this to me. This young lady ~~was~~ even made me shed a tear with her brilliant voice, dancing skills and heartbreaking song by Adele. What impressed me the most it was her ability to sing and do different tricks at the same time. I even started to think that I'm ~~in a movie~~ in a movie. I'd totally recommend further development in this field, focusing on making performance richer with actions. In conclusion I'd like to say that hard work always pays off! Never give up on your dreams! Thank you for coming!

Once upon a time there were two villages: Kiddest and Wisest. There was a large lake between them. At that time, people didn't know about boats and ships, so ~~the~~ people from one ~~village~~ village rarely speak to their neighbours.

In the Wisest village there were a young man, who was dreaming about a girl from the Kiddest village. She was not only beautiful as the first flower in spring, but also very polite and gentle with him. He talked to her only once, but ~~that~~ this was enough for him to fall for her.

For months he couldn't sleep, dreaming about her every second. One day he decided that he couldn't live like this no more. He needed to cross this enormous lake. He went to the lake and noticed that wooden sticks don't sink, but keep still at the surface. The boy started to connect different sticks one to another to make the construction big enough that he could stand on it. At the beginning, nothing happened. But then after several nights without sleep, he did it. He crossed the lake with flying colours and found the girl ~~she~~ he loved. ~~She was so happy to meet him~~ The girl was so happy that she couldn't help but kissed him. Then, they returned back to the wisest village and lived happily ever after.

The boy named the invention 'the boat'. With the help of it, citizens of two villages started to communicate to each other, sell goods and so on. His invention made ~~the~~ ~~that~~ ~~our~~ ~~the~~ ~~and~~ ~~was~~ ~~on~~ getting to the destination easier and we still use this method, created ~~by~~ the ~~people~~ with the help of eternal love.

Dear contestant!

Your breath-taking performance on the talent show has gotten to the bottom of my heart. Such an amazing staging shouldn't go unnoticed. ~~Your rest of~~ Your flexibility left me speechless. I've never seen this level of ballet proficiency from such a young artist. That Pas-de-bras of yours was the most stunning part of your performance.

Along with your music choice, ~~the atmosphere~~ ~~of the performance~~ it was easy to catch on the atmosphere of the performance, that's what many young artists lack in their ~~performance~~ composition.

However, I hope you'll take these recommendations of mine into your account. ~~First~~ First and foremost, never forget to stay concentrated during your performance, because when you relax on stage, your toes, knees, and hands are not pointed enough. Then I would like to mention your emotions. Watch out for any character breaks, because ~~the~~ you're not just a dancer, you're also an actor. And to conclude with, talk less, smile more. Your ~~stingy~~ smirk is not visible off stage, show us some teeth as well.

Keep up, <sup>there is</sup> you ~~have~~ a great future ahead of you!

~~The future~~ LOGIC HERO

The future is born in the hands that dare to dream...

A math genius from a very young age, Alex could sum up ~~at~~ numbers ~~from~~ since he was four. His mother was shocked, but decided to get him in school at an early age, though he didn't enjoy it. ~~Classmates~~ Classmates were not talking to him, because he was too young for them. The only reason he went to school for ~~were~~ math lessons, he felt over the moon ~~in~~ in the math class, but it was held only once a week.

But Alex never stopped dreaming about maths being an every day activity. He was the only boy in his kingdom who adored maths this much. / 100 SA 4/11

Years passed, Alex ~~the~~ was still dreaming about becoming a mathematician some day. He reached for foreign textbooks and wondered why ~~there~~ did nobody in his kingdom like math. However, one day the king ~~announced~~ called every kid with an "A" in maths to his palace. Some wizard came in and said, that he'll never be able to ~~to~~ speak again if he won't solve his riddle in two days. He was terrified, but couldn't solve it, so he needed some help. Some scholars said that they cheated in maths, so they don't know how to solve it, some mentioned that they just got "A"s for being the teacher's pets. Now only Alex was left, the king sighed and showed him the riddle:

"It is black, in dark it's hot.
Some may see ~~to~~ it, some may not.
It will follow each your step,
You'll forget, where'd you met"

The king was scared, but Alex had ~~just~~ to take just one glance, before he shouted: "Shadow!"
The wizard came out of nowhere and asked Alex: "How'd you do it?" Alex replied: "Logic!"
That was the day, when ~~the~~ maths became important everywhere!

¡Buenos días! Me llamo Catalina y estudio en la universidad de mi ciudad. Me preocupa un problema relacionado con los precios de transporte público. Honestamente, las becas de nuestras universidades son pequeñas, los estudiantes no pueden pagar por ~~todo lo que~~ <sup>en</sup> ~~que~~ necesiten. todas las necesidades. Por eso of-rezco hacer mejor la vida de nuestros ciudadanos. Creo que hay un variante excelente para solucionar este problema. Sería más cómodo y práctico si las tarjetas de transporte público contuvieran los descuentos universitarios. Así, se puede facilitar la vida de las generaciones menores.

Sin más por el momento, ¡muchas gracias por su atención!

~~CONTAR UNA HISTORIA~~

CONTAR una historia muy importante. Solo hace tres años empecé a estudiar español. A decir verdad, había querido estudiarlo antes pero no había tenido bastante tiempo. Todo el proceso del aprendizaje era el paraíso, me encantaba leer los artículos diferentes en este idioma y hacer ejercicios. Al ver mi pasión al español, mi padre ofreció cambiar el colegio. <sup>Estuve</sup> ~~Estaba~~ de acuerdo con él. Hace dos años integré al colegio donde español es la lengua principal del ~~gr~~ programa escolar. Las clases eran difíciles para mí, entendía mal la parte gramatical y casi no podía hablar. Pero paso a paso, al encontrar los obstáculos, intentaba mejorar mi nivel de español, haciendo todos los ejercicios y escuchando a mi profesora. Y al final pude hablar y entender la mayoría de los detalles lingüísticos. Este momento de mi vida me mostró la importancia de la paciencia, porque me había sentido mal ~~at~~ por no hablar bien y no tener el nivel adecuado. Por eso se puede decir "No hay mal que por bien no venga". Gracias a mis esfuerzos ahora hablo español bien y lo practico regularmente.

Liebe Nachbarn!

Am Samstag habe ich wieder in Wut geraten! Sie <sup>gr.1</sup> wissen, dass ich Tag und Nacht arbeite. Nur am Samstag kann ich mich erholen und Stress abbauen.

Wiemal habe ich ~~da~~ gar nicht geschlafen, weil es zu laut war! So weit ich weiß, haben Sie ein Party <sup>gr.1</sup> gemacht. Wenn Sie während des Tages gefeiert <sup>gr.1</sup> haben, war alles in Ordnung! Aber dann haben Sie begonnen, Musik laut zu hören, viel zu tanzen und zu singen. Und das alles in der Nacht, wenn alle anderen <sup>gr.1</sup> Menschen schlafen! Das ist nicht zum ersten Mal geschehen, wir haben darüber gesprochen, aber Sie haben nichts gemacht.

Das Problem ist lösbar. Ich bin natürlich kein Experte auf diesem Gebiet, aber ich kann raten, außerhalb des Hauses Partys zu veranstalten. Es wäre für ~~beide~~ beide Seiten besser.

Vielen Dank für die Aufmerksamkeit. Ich hoffe, dass wir Entscheidung treffen werden.

Mit herzlichen Grüßen

Rascha
