PART 4. WRITING

Sometimes people dream about summer in winter. They dream about beautiful skies and warm seas, hot weather and bathsuits. But imagine there is no winter in Russia any more. What would happen then?

First of all, our climate would change and our country would seem more like Brazil or Australia. Also, the risks of dieing from the hot weather of the climate change would be higher than they already are. Sooner or later, our whole country would turn into a desert and covid would probably spread faster.

I definitely wouldn't be happy if such a change happened. Hot weather is good, but so is the cold weather.
