Winter in Russia is different from winter in other countries. Some people ~~want~~ adore winter while some people want summer ^{to be} all year round. Can you imagine Russia without Russian snow?

I think we will not be happy because we will be bored without snow. It would not be interesting to celebrate the New Year without snow. There would be no New Year's mood as the New Year without snow. Without snow, it will be impossible to do your favourite things like skiing and sledging. We are used to celebrating New Year at home, and we always go outside to see how fireworks are launched.

I really hope that the climate will not change and we will always enjoy winter in Russia.
